Parts, Jan. 28 .- At a cabinet council the ministers decided to accept the compromise between the government and the committee of the chamber of deputies on the question of excluding pretenders, based upon M. Fabre's proposals, which is a reproduction of the gov-ernment bill, with the additional clause prohibiting pretenders from exercising the elective function. Admiral Jaureguiberry then resigned. Gen. Billot, minister of war, announced that he should oppose the measure, but consented to remain in office provisionally, in order to avoid a ministerial crisis. The committee, on being informed of the res-The committee, on being informed of the resolution of the cabinet, agreed by a vote of 6 to 5 to support M. l'abre's proposal. M. Marcom then resigned the post of reporter of the committee. M. Fabre, who was chosen in his place, was instructed to submit the report to the chamber of deputies before the close of Saturday's sitting. M. Duclere declines to accept M. Fabre's compromise, and insists upon the retention of the government's proposals in their original form. He communicated his decision late last night to President Grevy and Ministers Fallieres and Deves. It is asserted that Gen. Billot shares M. Duclere's views.

DEBATING THE MAGISTRACY BILL. In the chamber of deputies to day debate was continued on the magistracy bill. The vote of last year, abrogating the principle of irremovability of judges, and providing that they be elected, was reversed by the rejection of the first clause of the committee's draft. Toward the close of the sitting M. Fabre read the report of the committee on the question of excluding pretenders. M. Bourgeois (Bonapartist) protested, and moved the previous question. M. Cuneo d'Ornano (Bonapartist) also protested. The previous question was rejected by a vote of 99 to 440. Debate on the RESIGNATION OF THE CABINET. Paris, Jan. 28.—The ministers met at the Elysee this morning and tendered their resig-nations, which were accepted by President Grevy.

President Grevy has summoned MM. Fal-lieges and Jules Ferry for the purpose of con-ferring with them in regard to the formation of a new ministry.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The Times Paris correspondent says the result of the situation is tolerably clear, namely, an early dissolution of the chamber. In a conversation, for which the correspondent vouches, President Grevy remarked: "I am firmly resolved on a disso-lution. Nobody can govern the country with the present chamber of deputies."

The Times, in a leading article this morning, commenting on the resignation of the French ministry, says the news is of a most momentous character. Even its immediate resignation of the cabinet exhibits a catastrophe which threatens the political arrangements of the country, and renders the substiitation of a more powerful ministry a matter of exceeding difficulty.

ANARCHY IN LYONS. PARIS, Jan. 28 A telegram from Lyons re-ports that the term is in a state of excite-ment. It is rumored that the anarchists intend to storm the prison of St. Paul where Prince Krapot Kine is confined. Troops and police have been posted in the neighborhood of the prison, and other precautions have been taken to prevent the anarchists from carrying out such a design.

THE IRISH ASSASSINS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 28.—Alice Carroll, aged 17; Michael Farrell, a brass fitter, aged 16; Con-nolly, a solicitor's clerk, and Pau, a provision dealer, were witnesses before the crowded court on Saturday. All of their testimony went to prove the assassination of Field, a special juror, on the evening of Nov. 27 last by Joseph Brady, Timothy Kelly, Laurence Haulon, John Dwyer, and Myles Kavanagh. After the testimony of Pau had been concluded, sixteen other prisoners against whom a general charge has been brought of conspir-acy to murder government officials, were placed in the dock with the five under exam-

Witness recollected the murder of Kenny in Seville place two years ago. Ward and Poole were arrested for that crime, and witness became center. A meeting of the council of centers was then held in York street; it was attended by the prisoner, Joseph Mullett, Michael Fogan, Sylvester Kingston and witness. The next meeting was attended by the same persons, together with Patrick Delany, James Lee, Robert Farrell and James Boland: Mullet occupied the chair. It was decided to arrange for appointment of a new vigilance committee to carry out the decrees of the directory. Joseph Mullett was chairman of the directory. Com-plaints were undeat this meeting of Poole, and the chairman said the matter would be dealt with when the vigilance committee was formed. All understood what the vigilance committee was for. Mullett said it would be well to send Kingston and McNamara away. A meeting of the centers was held on the following Sunday in the Glasneven cometery. Joseph Mullett, Daniel Delaney, Farrell, and others were present. Witness gave Mullett money, and Mullett gave him a receipt for the money, and Mullett gave him a receipt for the same under the name of Salmon on Dec. 31, 1882. The same evening a meeting was held at a public house. Mention was made of a threat of Mr. Mallon, superintendent of detectives, to prosecute for perjury certain witnesses examined at a private inquiry in Dublin castle. Mullett said Mr. Mallon would not get a church to presecute if a grw vi_gli-ance committee was formed, as he would be killed.

After the murder of Detective Cox, the old vigilance committee was broken up. Each of the nine centers selected two men from the rank and file of the brotherhood, and these rank and file of the brotherhood, and these eighteen men were introduced to the chairman, who swore them in as a vigilance committee; they were bound to obey him. Witness attended the meeting at which the new vigilance committee was sworn in; it was held in Brunswick street in the latter part of October last. Kingston was in the chair. Witness brought in Devine and Hawkins. Boland, a member of the directory, and Kingston were members of the former vigilance committee. DAVITT ON LANDLORDISM.

DUBLIN, Jun. 28.—Mr. Davitt, in a speech at a meeting of the National league here today, said he couldn't help feeling that the most godlike act a man could perform would be to complete the crushing of landlordism. If Mr. Gladstone could give a legislative blow to landlordism, his name would be revered by every generation of the liberated victims. To wage increasing strife against Irish powerty, misery and crime, Mr. Davitt said, seemed to him an irresistably imperative duty. In conclusion, he said that Irish landlordism and castle rule were being beaten inch by inch. DAVITT ON LANDLORDISM.

The Bride of a Night. HALIFAX C. H., VA., Jan. 28 .- Mr. James Suthrie, a prosperous young farmer, was married to Miss Hulda Martin on Friday night. A large company was present at the wedding. which was solemnized at the residence of the bride's father. Owing to the bad weather the guests remained at the mansion all night. Yesterday morning, when they had assembled at the breakfast table, it was remarked that the bride and groom were late in coming. Suddenly the shricks of a woman were heard, and the startled guests hastened into the hall where they met the bride of a night, who cried, "My husband! Oh, my husband!" When she awoke this morning she found her husband dead by her side. She is almost insane from grief. His funeral will take place to-day from the house in which he was married. His four groomsmen will act as pall bearers, and the minister who married them will read the burial service.

BOWEN AND TABOR

Two New Senators From the Centennial State Elected.

Sketch of the Men---The Balloting in Other States.

Mr. Windom at St. Paul-A Rumor that He Will

Withdraw Unfounded. Vaguely Balloting in Nebraska-A Caucus

-The Probable Result.

COLORADO'S NEW SENATORS.

DENVER, Jan. 28.-It now transpires that all the southern members of the legislature held a secret caucus Friday and pledged them; selves to unite on Mr. Bowen at the caucus at night. This same arrangement was cutered into on Wednesday last, but the fact leaked out and the scheme miscarried. The combination was made up of supporters of all the other candidates except Hammill, who had no following in the south. But three ballots were had, the second of which was declared void because of some irreglarity. The following is the result:-First ballot-Pitkin, 16; Tabor, 15; Hammill, 10; Bowen, 10; Willard Teller, 1; and Routt, 1. Third ballot-Pitkin, 5; Tabor, 13; Hammill, 8; and Thomas M. Bowen, of Rio Grande, 27. Mr. Bowen was declared the nominee of the caucus. The announcement was received with general satisfaction. In joint session of both houses of the legislature at noon Saturday Thomas M. Bowen, of Rio Grande, was elected United State senator for the term of six years from March 4, and H. A. Tabor, of Arapahoe, for the short term. Each received the full party Judge Bowen is about 52 years old. At the outbreak of the war he was living in Kansas, where he organized a regiment and served in the southwestern campatgns. He was breveted for meritori as conduct, and was given a special command in Arkansas. At the close of the war he became a delegate to the constitutional convention for the reconstruction of the state, and was made chairman of that body. After the readmission of Arkansas into the union Mr. Bowen was elected an associate judge of the supreme court of the state. At that time he was recognized as one of the prominent republican leaders in Arkansas, in 1871 he removed to New York, and in 1872 President Grant appointed him governor of Idaho. Afterward he removed to tolorado and was elected a judge of one of the courts in that state. He became interested in mining property, and is now reckoned as one of the boundars kings. He is an able jurist and a man of dignified bearing.

In the spring of 1878 Borace A. W. Tabor, who has been elected United States senator from Colorado for the term ending in 1883, kept a small store in California guich, near Leadville, and was a poor man. At that time George Hook and August Rische (a shoemaker), both without means, induced Mr. Tabor to enter into a partnership with them and put in what miners cail a "grub take." In other words, Mr. Tabor was to furnish tools and provisions to them while they were engaged in searching for minerals, and in return he was to have a share of what they found. Hook and Rische went upon a hill near Stray Horse guich, now known as Fryer hill, where George II Fryer was searching for ore. Soon after Mr. Fryer found the vein, Mr. Tabor's partners, and in five or six months he took out of the mine and sold $300,000 or $300,000 worth of ore, He then sold their mine the Little Pittsburg was the basis of Mr. Tabor's present wealth, about $10,000,000, he has of en said that if he had known where his partners were going to begin work, he never would have risked anything on their such as the leading of the pro

WINDOM WILL NOT WITHDRAW. ST. PAUL, MINN., Jan. 28.—There is no truth in the statement that Mr. Windom in-tends to withdraw. In an interview he said: "I have no intention of withdrawing. The issue was distinctly made at the last election, and by a decided majority the republicans expressed a preference for myself. I have reeived the almost unanimous nomination of a majority of the republican members of the legislature. I have at different times received the votes of more than a majority of the en-tire legislature, and under these circumstances. I have reason to expect an election, and have no intention of retiring from the contest so long as the friends who placed me in nomination desire me to remain as their candidate. One of the most secret of all the close caucuses held during the senatorial campaign is reported as having occurred very soon after the adjournment of the two branches of the legis-lature on Saturday. The members present were all from the fifty-one phalaux, and a najority of that number were in attendance, enator Windom was there, and expressed himself as in the hands of his friends and sur sorters, whom he warmly thanked for their ong-continued fealty to him.

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—The North German Gazette gives the text of a letter from the Emperor William to the Pope, dated Dec. 22. After heartily returning the good wishes expressed in a letter from the Pope to the ensperor, the latter declares that the Pope's letter has strongthened his hope that the satisfaction felt by the Pope at the re-establishment of the ground for his Holiness to reciprocate by similar advances. The emperor believes that the advance made by the Vatican in regard the advance made by the Vatican in regard to the duty of giving notice of ecclesinatical appointment to the government is even more to the interest of the Catholic church than to the state. If the emperor were convinced that his desire for an understanding were reciprocated, he would be able to concede that the Diet should reconsider the May laws, which are not permanently required for the maintenance of peaceful relations with the Vatican.

Gen. Sherman Also Entertains Him at Dinner and Reception.

Saturday was quite a busy day for the Marmis of Lorne. The day commenced with sumptuous dejenner at Chamberlin's, given by Col. Tourtelette, U. S. A., in honor of the distinguished guest. The breakfast was a royal one, served in Chamberlin's best style. Those invited to meet the governor general were the British minister, Gen. Sherman, Gen. Hazen, Commissioner Loring, Col. De Winton, R. A., and Mr. Bagot, After the breakfast had been leisurely discussed, the marquis, accompanied by the British minister and suite, was driven to the capitol and occupled a seat in the members' gallery of the house while Mr. McKinley, of Ohio, was speaking on "the degradation of labor in England." Speaker Keifer sat by the mar-

At the conclusion of Mr. McKinley's speech the marquis left the gallery and was con-ducted by the speaker to the room in the rear of the hall of representatives, where an in-formal reception was held. The members of formal reception was held. The members of the house committee on foreign relations were first presented, then the members generally, the clerks of the house, and several pages. The visitor complimented Mr. McKinley upon his speech; said he heard every word distinctly, and, in the few minutes they stood talking, made some allusion to the effect of the tariff system upon Canada. From the house the party was conducted by Sergeant at Arms Hooker to the senate. Sergeant at Arms Bright met them there and conducted the marquis to the floor, where an informal presentation of senators took place. Mr. Plumb, of Kansas, was speaking on the tariff while the introductions were going on, and, after half an hour of conversation, the marquis and party left the capitol.

The party then called upon the secretary of state, who has been for some days past and is still confined to his house by a severe cold. The interview was quite an extended one, during which the secretary presented the ladies of his family to the marquis. The marquis subsequently attended the reception of Mrs. McEirey, the president's sister, at the executive mansion.

THE PRESIDENT'S DINNER. THE PRESIDENT'S DINNER.

THE PRESIDENT'S DINNER.

The party returned to the British legation about 4 o'clock, and at 7:30 drove to the white house, where they had been invited by the President to dinner. The dinner was one of the most claborate given by the President this season, and great preparations had been made for the event. The parlors looked lovely, decorated with the choicest cut flowers and twering tropical plants. The green and red parlors were used as cleak rooms, the President and Mrs. McElroy receiving their guests in the east room. The Marine band was stationed in the hall, and rendered some choice selections during the progress of the banquet. At 8 o'clock they played "Hail to the Chief," which was the signal for the President to give his arm to Mrs. Fred inghuyson and lead the way to the state dining room. THE CAVE-IN AT WILKES-BARRE.

Men Without Wives, Mothers, or Sweethearts to Go Down in the Mine.

WILKES-BARRE, Jan. 28 .- The situation at the district where the cave-in is situated remains the same. The residents who can find tenements continue to leave the dangerous quarter, but hundreds of families still remain. Arrangements have been made for the chil-Arrangements have been made for the children who attended the school, now liable to

The strictest vigilance is maintained by the squads of self-appointed watchers, who keep a careful lookout for approacing dangers. Arrangements are making by volunteer miners to nerror the absorband colligings, and to find rangements are making by volunteer miners to pierce the abandoused collieries, and to find out for themselves, if possible, what is likely to happen. A scene occurred when the leaders in the movement were calling for men to go below. Hundreds of women and children stood about. When the chief said that at stood about. When the chief said that at least ten volunteers were required, there was not a miner present who did not leap forward eagerly at the call. Then the wives and mothers present raised their piteous cries in discouragement of the acceptance of such a dangerous mission by their husbands or sous. At length one big, brawny fellow stepped out and exclaimed; "Only those who have no wives, mothers, sweethearts, or sisters are wanted, and no others shall go down. Are there any such here?" Fully forty brive fellows came forward and said that they were so conditioned. The volunteers were made up of conditioned. The volunteers were made up of these. It is understood that they will begin an exploration at once. Great mental distress still prevails, and will until the situation is thoroughly known. The Delaware and Hud-son company have not made a move in the di-

Killed Her Vagabond Brother-in-Law. Bosron, Jan. 28,-To-night in south Boston Elizabeth Wessels, aged 14, shot in the temple her brother-in-law, Henry Fasshauer, aged 28, a lithographer, who five years ago married Elizabeth's eldest sister. His wife separated from him a year ago, as he had become dissipated. Since then he has led a vagabond life, frequently going to his wife's house when drank and threatening members of the family one of of the family. Two of the family, one of them Elizabeth, bought pistols to protect themselves. To-night Fasshauer went to the house, quarreled with Elizabeth's young brother, and was shaking him when the girl drew the pistel and shot him through the brain. He will probably die in a few hours.

Trouble Among the Roman Catholies. WHEELING, W. VA., Jan. 28.—A letter of ondemnation from Rt. Rev. John J. Kain, bishop of Wheeling, against the Knights of St. John, a German Catholic society, was read in all the Catholic churches to-day, ordering all Catholics to leave the society before March 1 under pain of excommunication. Last September the diocesan synod forbade round dances and the sale of beer at entertainments by Catholic societies. The Knights of St. John disobeyed the order. Whether mem-bers of the order will withdraw or defy authority is a mooted question. Many talk defiantly, and the German press characterize the bishop's action as an outrage upon the freedom of the German members of his church. Another Swindler Arrested.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28 .- A man giving the name of W. G. Dickey, and claiming to have escaped from the Newhall house fire after receiving severe injuries, was arrested here to-day. He bought a number of bills of goods to day. He bought a number of bills of goods to the value of several thousand dollars from wholesale houses here yesterday, and in pay-mont presented checks on the First National bank of a town in Minnesota. It is discovered that he is not the man he represented information as to the checks. A telegram has been received from Milwaukee to hold him, as it is believed he fraudulently collected money there as a sufferer by the Newhall fire.
